From lush green in monsoon to arid dry yellowish red in summer, as per the changing season mountains keep displaying array of shades. Seasonal variations offers spectacular/jaw dropping views in the Northern Mountains. If you have captured such mountain hues those will be appropriate entries for this photography competition.

It's not only about the shades of the mountains, but different light sources add glamour to the natural canvas. Sun rises, sun sets, rainbows, auras, gleaming brightness peeping through clouds, literally paints the skies with hundreds of eye catching colours. We are looking for such captures.

A fortunate combination of mountain hues with the painted skies will be propitious.
